Research EducAtion to Promote Clinician Participation in ReHAbilitation Studies of SCI

What is REACH?

REACH (Research EducAtion to Promote Clinician Participation in ReHAbilitation) is a Paralyzed Veterans of America (PVA) Education Foundation-funded initiative aimed at exploring and mitigating barriers to clinician involvement in SCI rehabilitation research. This program is led by Cleveland Clinic, Cleveland Clinic Rehabilitation Hospitals (CCRH), and faculty partners from:

- Cleveland MetroHealth
- Kessler Foundation
- Louis Stokes Cleveland VA Medical Center
- Baylor Scott & White Rehab

REACH is supported in full by Grant #895 from the PVA Education Foundation

How Can Members Get Involved?

Take a brief IRB-approved survey (4–5 minutes) to share insights on research barriers and facilitators
